Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 15 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Long spells of very warm sunshine.

Today:
Any early cloud in the west soon clearing then dry with long spells of unbroken sunshine. Cloud is expected to slowly increase across western Argyll in the afternoon. With light winds it will feel very warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Tonight:
Some late sunshine for many then long clear spells overnight. However Argyll and coastal parts will see cloud increase overnight, with perhaps a little drizzle over western Argyll. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Friday:
Western Argyll rather cloudy, with a few spots of drizzle at first. Elsewhere, bright with warm sunny spells, although a little more cloud than recent days. Mainly light southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Some sunny spells towards around and to the east of Glasgow Saturday, but generally the weekend looks mostly cloudy with occasional rain. Cloudy start Monday but becoming brighter in afternoon.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.